Salary Determination

- The ODNI uses a rank-in-person system in which rank is attached to the individual. A selected ODNI candidate or other Federal Government candidate will be assigned to the position at the employee's current GS grade and salary.
- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The National Counterproliferation Center (NCPC) coordinates strategic planning with the Intelligence Community (IC) to enhance intelligence support to the United States (U.S.) efforts to stem proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and related delivery systems. It works with the IC to identify critical intelligence gaps or shortfalls in collection, analysis, or exploitation; and develop solutions to ameliorate or close these gaps. It also works with the IC to identify long-term proliferation threats and requirements and develop strategies to ensure the IC is positioned to address these threats and issues. NCPC reaches out to elements both inside and outside the IC and the U.S. Government (USG) to identify new methods or technologies that can enhance the capabilities of the IC to detect and defeat future proliferation threats.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Lead a nuclear-related priority CP threat campaign by working with key IC stakeholders to identify and close key intelligence gaps through integrated collection and analysis strategies.
- Develop briefings, reports, and other communication vehicles and brief NCPC leadership and staff, policymakers, and other major stakeholders on mature and incipient nuclear threat topics affecting the IC.
- Engage in community outreach programs and represent the interests of NCPC within the ODNI, to the broader IC & other government entities, and with non-government scientific experts (academic and private sector).
- Develop and maintain substantive expertise by staying abreast of advancements in the nuclear discipline; represent the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) in inter- and intra-agency meetings, teams, and task forces.
- Assist the ODNI and NCPC in determining the status of the ICs analytic, collection, and interdiction efforts against the pursuit of nuclear weapons, material, related technologies, expertise, and security; formulate recommendations for senior leadership and policymakers to address any shortfalls and lead follow-on activities to ensure key critical gaps are addressed and required changes are implemented.
- Establish, cultivate, and lead initiatives, and projects that enable or document community activities aimed at identifying and developing strategic approaches that close priority counterproliferation intelligence gaps.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Demonstrated leadership, experience and knowledge of nuclear counterproliferation issues.
- Expert knowledge of intelligence collection and analysis to include HUMINT, SIGINT, MASINT, GEOINT, or other related disciplines.
- Develop and manage strategic plans and monitor and report on project and program performance.
- Exert influence, exercise independent judgment on time-sensitive issues, manage competing priorities, and work collaboratively across the IC.

Desired Requirements

- Excellent leadership, interpersonal, and oral and written communication skills required to represent the NCPC at meetings, conferences, and other public fora.
- Demonstrated ability to apply knowledge of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI), IC organizations, and relevant customer organizations or operations (e.g., military, policy makers, and law enforcement), to effectively translate their requirements and provide appropriate output or responses to meet customer needs.
- Expert knowledge of US WMD counterproliferation goals and objectives, understanding of relevant IC Agencies, and understanding of IC collection needs and their relationship to the analytic and production process.
